STANFORD, KY., TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1892.

NO. 100

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Owsley and Yantis shipped a car of mules to Statesville, N. C., this week for market.

—The young people had a little storm party at Mr. John Edmiston's on Friday night and had a very pleasant time.

—We think there certainly is either a mistake in the weather or the month, as we can only recognize March in this weather.

—Misses Nannie Edmiston and Maggie Tucker are visiting in Stanford. Hon. D. B. Edmiston has returned to Frankfort, leaving Mrs. Edmiston very much improved. Col. Welch was up Saturday viewing the fire, and regretted seeing such an old landmark go. The colonel is quite partial to his native place—Crab Orchard. Uncle Arch Carson, who has been quite feeble this winter, was able to go out to the depot one day this week. Mrs. John Warren is ill with the asthma and grip.

—Quite a number of ladies concluded to take dinner at a bachelor's hall near town one day this week, so, after sending Mr. Holmes word what day they were coming, the party formed, with Mrs. John Higgins and Mrs. W. P. Tatum in the lead, and got along very nicely as far as the pike. After leaving the pike the ladies got out and walked, but felt repaid for all trouble after arriving at the mansion, where Messrs. John and Sam Holmes played hosts and had a dinner prepared fit for queens. From all reports I think the ladies will make it convenient to go again.

—On Saturday morning at about 8 o'clock the citizens were startled by the cry of fire, when it was discovered that the old brick hotel, on the corner of Main and Stanford streets, was on fire, and with a strong wind blowing it looked like it would be impossible to save the surrounding buildings, but by the heroic efforts of every one, nothing but the hotel burned, and everything belonging to Judge Hansford, who occupied the building, and G. W. Lee, who kept a saloon in it, was saved. Several families, who occupied the adjoining houses, moved out, and the excitement was intense for a while, but all kept busily at work and soon had the fire under control. Just about the time things were getting quiet another alarm was given that the residence of Mr. D. C. Payne was on fire. Mr. Payne's family left a big fire in the grate when they went to help at the hotel. This fell out and set fire to the sitting-room and had it been discovered a few minutes later, would have been beyond control. As it was, the loss was slight, the damage being the burning of the carpet and floor. The hotel was the property of John Buchanan and J. L. James and was insured for $1,500 in the London & Liverpool & Globe.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

—Col. Adams has offered a bill to abolish the office of assessor.

—A bill to consolidate the offices of sheriff and jailer is before the House.

—A bill was introduced in the Senate to abolish the State Board of Equalization.

—Dr. Woods' resolution to hold two sessions a day on Tuesdays and Thursdays was adopted.

—The Senate adopted the House resolution instructing Congress to make the election of U. S. Senators by popular vote.

—Kentucky sent a special commissioner to Italy to bring back the body of Joel Hart, but the Legislature has just refused to appropriate $1,000 for a monument on his grave.

—A bill has been introduced in Congress to put a tax of $10 per thousand on cigarettes, the object of which is to raise the price so that they will be beyond the reach of boys. Probably the boys will take warning and lay in an abundant supply of the poisonous articles before the law takes effect.

—Senator Breckinridge has offered a bill to make it a felony for any one to obstruct a public road or private pass-way with wire, rope, chain or other thing and if the obstruction cause death to any person, the culprit shall be tried for willful murder and hanged or imprisoned for life if the jury believe him guilty.

Mrs. Annie Smith, of Richmond, Va., the wife of a lawyer and herself well qualified to practice, was refused admission to the bar on account of her sex. She has had a bill introduced in the Virginia Legislature to allow properly qualified women to practice law. The bill has been referred to the Senate Committee on Courts of Justice, who are considering it, and are said to be likely to report it favorably.

Mr. Joel Kemper, a farmer of Owen county, has what he claims a sure cure for "scab" in sheep. He has tried it and he says it does the work splendidly. Take soft soap and mix with coal oil, enough to make the mixture a thick solution, and apply to affected sheep by rubbing well, and it will kill the disease immediately, and the wool will grow back in a short time.

HUSTONVILLE.

—J. B. Cook has taken a position as traveling salesman for A. R. Clarke & Co., Cincinnati, and will visit the grocers in this section in a few days.

—Uncle Ben Allen's friends were happy to welcome him to town again, after nearly two months' confinement by painful afflictions. Except a little bleaching from so long enforced indoor discontentment, his friends would not suspect from his appearance or movements that he had been a sufferer. Uncle Jimmie Walker and Uncle Ben are two of our oldest citizens, but Time has dealt kindly with both and that they are not yet in the sore and yellow is evidenced by their astonishing activity, and the eagerness with which their company is sought by their younger acquaintances.

—Some time ago one of our rural scientists regaled an attentive crowd with a lecture on Easter and its traditions and closed his dissertation with the information that "Easter Sunday comes on a Chinese day this year," which is suggested by Prof. Thomson, of Christian College, having decreed that Washington's birthday shall fall on Friday, the 19th inst., this year, and the college exercises in celebration of that event will be held next Friday evening. Prof. Thomson has wisely set the date back a few days in view of the derangement of regular routine, which would unavoidably result from strict conformity to date by a Monday night's entertainment.

—The juvenile of to-day can be confidently depended on to "get there" in most emergencies and often to no little discomfort of the elders. One of our handsomest and most attractive middle-aged young ladies, who is not in the least affected nor sensitive to inferences as to age, when rather ancient reminiscences have been introduced, was lately entertaining a few guests with a piece of amusing mimicry, which she rather abruptly abbreviated, one of the appreciative little ones thought, and "pleaded," "Tell it all, Auntie, tell it all." "Oh no, Jimmie, it hurts my lips," was the unsatisfactory excuse for not continuing. "Take out your teeth, take out your teeth!" was the stunning suggestion and a revelation to many of her intimates, but the young lady increased the admiration in which she was held by all her friends by cheerfully complying with the little fellow's innocent importunities.

—Bob Murphy, a merchant prince of Danville, was here last week visiting friends. Tom Neet, a versatile but jovial knight of huge trunks, which were warranted baggage-slasher proof, was here last week with a train load of samples, a spread of which demanded all available ground floor space at the Vendome. Tom's diagonals, coupled with a chevron and inimitable persuasiveness, leaves no doubt that Hustonville will this season be jobbing headquarters for ready-made clothing outfits. Mr. Neet traces his descent directly from a titled progenitor from whom the tide-water city of Neetsville, on Green river, was named, but carries his honors as unstockpably as does Jess Huston the change of his town's name from New Store to Hustonville. Shack Hoffman was at Frankfort last week. Jim Goode is authority for the statement that the organization of the Third House was what drew Shack to the capital.

—The effrontery of quacks has ever been their best "stock in trade" and they keep well abreast of the progressive procession of this wonderful period of universal advancement. Since Lydia Pinkham and one or two others embellished the advertisement of their nostrums with handsome engraved likenesses of the great public benefactors (?) it has become the fad for nearly every upstart to affix his picture to his little song of self praise or boast of his worthless patent's marvelous virtues. Many of these pictures would not attract a physiognomist or detective's second glance in a scantily stocked rogues' gallery; all the same, they continue an impudent feature of pictorial advertisement columns in all periodicals of assured circulation. The culmination of this style of advertisement is reached by one Green in his allegorical almanac, wherein his friends and patrons are represented by an army of greenies, in which a superannuated jackass is conspicuous. He has carried his grim humor even to the extreme of a suggestive scene of snicker fishing. Notwithstanding his palpable hits at the class who freely give up their hard earnings for his vaunted nostrums, they condone the insults heaped on them by his laughable and suggestive classification of patent medicine takers with greenies, jackasses and suckers. Barnum was generally ahead of his generation in profitably pandering to a sensation-loving public, but his extraordinary philosophical acumen will be perpetuated in his addition to the list of impressive axioms: "The American people thrive on humbuggery." In this age of sumptuary as well as sumptuous solicitude it is surprising that our legislative philanthropists do not find a little more time to devote to the festive patent medicine fiends. We haven't been there, nor read "In Dar k-est Africa," but feel safe in making the declaration that Stanley found even the most debased African tribes enjoying greater immunity from quack nostrums than enlightened America.

BARBOURVILLE, KNOX COUNTY.

—Dr. W. Barnside tells us of the arrival at his house of a 10 pound boy, the first of last week.

—The arrival of Miss Mary Dishman, who has been on an extended visit through the West during the past 10 months, makes glad the hearts of her many friends here.

—The first issue of the Barbourville Herald will not appear Feb. 18, as previously announced, but owing to delay in shipment of the outfit which could not have been averted, it will be out on the 25th.

—A meeting of the stockholders of the Knox county Fair Association was held last Monday and the old board of directors, with the exception of Dr. Barnside, in whose stead Mr. W. W. Tinsley was elected, were re-elected and the board organized with the same officers as before.

—There will be a lecture at Union College, Monday night, by Rev. R. T. Stevenson, subject "Old Rome in New Italy." Rev. Stevenson will also lecture Tuesday night, subject, "Chilic." These lectures have been announced along with the regular lecture course of Union College, which has so far proved such a decided success.

—The marriage of Mr. Wm. F. Parks to Miss Eliza Foley, of this city, Friday night, was a surprise to all their friends. Mr. Parks formerly resided at this place, but now lives in Madison county, where he will make his home in the future for a time at least. Both the bride and groom are well and favorably known in Barbourville and vicinity. They were married at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Henry Foley, on Main street, County Judge D. McDonald officiating.

—The holding over of the Shelton Brothers as a result of their trial last Monday, for the burning of T. M. Sampson's store, is simply the result most everybody anticipated, as there was found in their possession clothing belonging to Mr. Sampson bearing his private mark, which he positively identified. This together with the whole train of circumstances makes some pretty strong evidence against them.

LIBERTY, CASEY COUNTY.

—A very unexpected death occurred here at three o'clock this morning. Mr. R. Fowler, an aged man, was going around as usual until bedtime last night, but was taken severely ill some time in the night and only lived a few hours. His death is said to have been caused by disease of the heart.

—Our town is unusually dull at this time, with the exception of a torrent of drummers that have poured in upon us for the past week or two. Their ingress has been so rapid for a few days that it would take an expert stenographer to note the hotel arrivals. We therefore fail to name them personally.

—It must be remembered by members of the 1st Kentucky cavalry especially, that on the 22d inst.; there is a called meeting for them to appear here and celebrate Washington's birthday with appropriate speeches and talk about the history of the regiment now on hands and in a progressive state.

—The very inclement weather this winter, brought about by Mr. John W. Whipp's favorite weather prophet, Foster, has been very inconvenient to our anglers this winter and to none more so than our skillful lawyer, J. Boyle Stone, who, in all pleasant weather, generally puts in most of his time, not devoted to his clients, in seeking after the finny tribe. In Boyle's earlier days he could find employment for his rather active mind in leisure hours, in fastening tin cans to dog's tails and see them go like greased lightning through the town, but since he has become a married man, his better half has vetoed that amusement.

A UNCLE GERMAN resident of Lincoln county recently bought a piece of land in the county, to which the title is not clear. His friends advised him not to pay for the land or to go to work upon it till the matter was settled in the courts. The litigation is now pending in the Court of Appeals. The aforesaid German, who is too fresh from the Fatherland to write English or to understand a republican form of government, has written here to Mr. John R. Procter, of the Geological Survey. After explaining the situation, he says: "Will you be so good as to go to the governor and tell him to have the Court of Appeals hurry up my case? It is time I was at work."—G. L. W. in Louisville Times.

First Boy (contemptuously)—"Huh! Your ma takes in washing."

Second Boy—"O' course; you didn't s'pose she'd leave it hangin' out over night unless your pa was in jail, did ye?"

—New York Herald.

—To date there had been marketed of the new cotton crop 7,534,697 bales, against 7,105,352 bales last year for the same period.

LANCASTER, GARRARD COUNTY.

—Santley Hughes has accepted the position of "devil" in the Record office.

—Miss Marion Lowell, of Boston, will give a public reading at the court-house next Friday evening.

—Mr. Joseph Simpson, a wealthy and influential farmer, of Buckeye, died Sunday morning, aged 74.

—The St. Valentine's party given at the Holmes House, Saturday night, by the W. C. T. U. was liberally patronized and a neat little sum was realized.

—As Mr. Gideon Rothwell was returning to his home in Upper Garrard, Saturday night, the team became frightened and ran away breaking Mr. Rothwell's leg.

—Circuit Court adjourned Saturday night after a very busy term. The grand jury returned 123 indictments, mostly for misdemeanors. A special term of the court was ordered to be held March 12, at which time several equity cases will be tried.

—Judge Morrow granted a new trial to Estis, the man tried for wire stretching and fined $750 in addition to one year's imprisonment in the county jail. His bail has been fixed at $500 in the case for wire stretching and $500 in the case for arson. He is yet in jail.

—There is to be another big dinner in New York on the 27th inst., at which 27 notables, including the president and several members of his cabinet, are to eat and speak. Depew, Ingalls and Ingersoll are among the guests and it is thought that they will speak all night till broad daylight and go home with red eyes in the morning.

—Clyde Herring, of Louisville, is visiting Dr. Herring. Miss Lou Grant, is visiting in Columbia, Tenn. A. D. Knox, the life insurance man, is in town. Capt. W. J. Kinnaird, of Middlesboro, is visiting his parents. Dr. J. W. Grant has gone to Somerset. Judge T. Z. Morrow has returned home. Mrs. R. H. Elkin has returned to Louisville.

—Daniel Bradshaw rode past the home of David Bradburn, in Indiana, and yelled "hayseed," at which Bradburn fired a rifle to frighten Bradshaw and killed him. Bradburn was tried and acquitted. It is not necessary to come the hip pocket dodge in Indiana; all that is required to justify killing is to call a man a "hayseed," a pumpkin seed or a squash.

—Seth Low, Wm. R. Grace and Hamilton Fish have resigned as trustees of the Grant monument. It seems that they have become disgusted with the tardy and meager contributions of the rich New Yorkers and hence leave the matter to be attended to by other parties. The people of that State are too busy to build monuments and prefer to devote their time to watching the markets and the rise and fall of stocks. The fact is they hardly have time to die.

—The Courier-Journal, in referring to the death of a distinguished citizen, uses the old saying that "death loves a shining mark." It is somewhat difficult to believe that death loves anything; on the contrary, it would seem to be true that affection is a stranger to the grim monster, who is no respecter of persons. He uses the same scythe in the decapitation of a king that he does in the taking off of a beggar, and when he taps at the door he is never refused admission. The best a poor mortal can do is to be ready for him when he comes, and not to expect any favors from him under the impression that you are "a shining mark."

THE Pineville Messenger thus announces an addition to its population: With a most fatherly smile our genial friend, Charlie Metcalf, remarked the other day: "Glover Cleveland, Prince Henry, of Battenberg, who married the youngest daughter of Queen Victoria, and myself have all had additions to our families recently. I tell you, it's a great season for the aristocracy." The "addition" to Mr. Metcalf's family arrived last Sunday, and it is said by its father to be the most charming little Miss on earth. Her name is Charlotte Gray Metcalf.

Speaking about the payment of pensions by Dr. Walton in Louisville, the Commercial, which used to be a "trooly loyal" paper and in favor of large pensions, says:

"The cripples are always the first on hand, and it is curious to note that pensioned cripples are more seedy than those maimed in machine shops or railroad accidents and have not Uncle Sam to rely on. Many of the pensioners are people of low degree, who, if they have any of last pay day's money left, quickly spend it for drink, so they can start fresh with their new pension cash."

—Gov. McCreary presided over the House in Committee of the Whole for four hours, with the appropriations for the Military Academy under consideration. The republicans resorted to all parliamentary tactics to retard and delay consideration of the bill, but Gov. McCreary was equal to every emergency, and was congratulated after adjournment by many democrats for the admirable manner in which he presided.

—The West Point Military Academy costs $300,000 a year.

W. P. WALTON.

The Lower House of Congress is beginning to verify the fears of its friends and the prophecies of its enemies. The democrats have a majority of 150 and yet the little handful of republicans, headed by Ex-Czar Reed, have on more than one occasion gotten the better of parliamentary tactics. Nothing of importance has been done yet and one day last week the body had actually to adjourn because of a lack of a quorum. The fact of it is there is no leader in whom there is confidence. The old tried and true men have been relegated to the rear to make room for Crisp supporters and the unwieldy majority drifts aimlessly about. A Moses is needed to lead it out of the wilderness.

The Hill men, who are as much in the minority in Bourbon as elsewhere in Kentucky, attempted to form a club at Paris, but according to the News it was a miserable failure. There were only 24 men in all present and they decided to adjourn till March court day to organize. It will be remembered that it was sent out in the dispatches that an organization was effected with 300 members and the number would be increased to 1,000 in a few days. This is the lying way the Hill men are trying to manufacture a sentiment for him in Kentucky, but it won't work. Kentucky is for Cleveland first, last and all the time, if his availability is not destroyed by a factional fight in New York.

Tax enterprising Evening Journal of Atlanta has been taking a poll of the State of Georgia on presidential preferences. Twelve or more of the most prominent democrats in each of 87 towns in 73 counties were interviewed, when 849 expressed themselves for Cleveland and 270 for Hill. The total number of expressions were about 1,300 and while Gray, Gorman and others got votes, Cleveland leads the entire field with only 390 against him. The Atlanta Constitution, which preaches Hill in and out of season, doesn't seem to be any great shakes of an opinion moulder. The honest masses can not be led from Cleveland.

As an offset to the snap judgment taken by the Hill committee in New York, a combination is said to have been formed whereby five North Western States will throw their votes solidly to Cleveland in early conventions. The States are Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin and the Dakotas. Hill and his adherents are willing to undertake any desperate game to carry their point, but they may overdo it and lose all. The people are not going to submit to machine methods if they can help it and we rather think they can.

There are numerous and sundry jackasses in the Legislature, but it seems that the Hon. Gee Dawson is entitled to the blue ribbon. His reference to the editor of the Louisville Times on a question of personal privilege shows that he is a very cheap and disgusting old fraud, who, if reports be true, should represent his county in an inebriate asylum, instead of in the House of Delegates.

A BILL is before the Legislature to pension all disabled Kentucky soldiers on either side during the late war. As all the federals who are entitled to them get pensions now, and but few confederates have allowed themselves to need pensions, the bill seems rather a useless effort, especially since there would be no funds to pay the pensions if it passed.

Gov. MCKINLEY predicts that there will be no change in the burdensome and odious law which bears his name in 25 years. The laboring class, at least, will not look upon the governor as a prophet or the son of a prophet, since all his prophecies of benefits to them under his law have signally failed to come to pass.

The New York Sun charges that Gen. Alger was dismissed from the army in 1864 on recommendation of Gen. Sheridan for deserting his command, and claims that it can prove it. The charge has created a great sensation and is a settler to the Michigan's presidential aspirations, if true.

The pension bureau is to be investigated in earnest. A committee consisting of a majority of democrats has been appointed by the House and life will be made burdensome for the commissioner from now on if the committee do its duty and half of the scandal attached to the office be true.

The Cincinnati papers promise to be run by women. Mrs. G. H. Givens has bought the Courier from E. D. Veach and Miss Mary Varnon, of Stanford, has a proposition from the Democrat of the same town to sell her a half interest, and she is considering the matter seriously.

A CINCINNATI firm advertises that it will send a recipe for making Bourbon whisky for the small sum of 10 cents. Too cheap, even for suckers. Such a recipe would not be a drug on the market at a thousand times the price.

J. F. Price has been arrested at Campbellsville for killing Mrs. Nancy Nunn in Metcalfe county.

They do say that John James Ingalls has joined the alliance in Kansas. He thinks he sees that it is his only chance for political preferment and without preferment life is to him as a sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal.

During his pastorate the church membership has increased by 700; five city missions have been opened; two churches have been built and organized, and $500,000 has been subscribed by the church for all purposes. Mr. Tupper goes to the 7th Street Baltimore church, the oldest and wealthiest in the city.

—Hoffman's Catholic Directory for 1892, puts the total Catholic population of the United States at 88,647,221. This is 67,255 more than the figures in the directory for 1891 foot up. The time card of the Norfolk & Western, the new route to the seaboard, appears in this issue. It is the most direct to Old Point and Northern cities and the route is through the most picturesque country.

—Eighty horses were burned in the street-car stables at Norfolk, Va.

—A sensation was created among the members of the General Assembly, at Frankfort, when it was discovered that after all, according to the leading legal minds of the Senate, the Goebel lottery bill is worthless. It contains an emergency clause and didn't get the requisite number of votes.

In a card published in the Lexington Leader, G. W. Gentry announces himself a candidate for delegate from the State-at-large to the National republican convention. He says it is conceded that one colored republican will be sent and as he has done more for the party than he has for himself and has always worked and voted in its interests he thinks he is entitled to the honor. He further says he is for Harrison and believes he can be elected.

REAL ESTATE AGENT,
Stanford, Ky.

I have quite a number of FARMS for sale of the very best Blue-Grass Lands in Lincoln county. These farms are all well improved and good rich lands, running in size from 30 to 500 A. C. Consider the locality, their richness and fertility of soil, the convenience of turnpikes and railroads that bring markets right to our door, they are cheaper than the Lands of any other county in the State. There is scarcely a Farm in the county over 5 miles from a depot.

The county is checked with turnpikes running in every direction. There is not a public road entering the county seat that is not Macadamized. Water Works are now being erected at the C. & O. R. R. dividing the county from East to West and the C. & S. R. R. from North to South; the K. C. R. R. from this place to Cincinnati, crossing the C. & O. R. R. at Winchester, giving full access to the markets of the whole world. Besides, we have three large Flour Mills in the county that give us a market for all our grain right at home, and the development of the mountain regions of Eastern and South-eastern Kentucky by railroads and the outlet South by railroads has created such a demand for all kinds of cereals and provender that we can scarcely retain enough for home consumption.

The people are prosperous, generous and kind, heaven in Christianity and education. There is not a neighborhood in the county but has a good church and school-house.

Stanford, the county seat of Lincoln, is a prosperous little city of about 2,500 inhabitants and is the great doorway from the North and North-east South and from the Northwest to Southeast, and standing as it does gazing right into the bosom of the undeveloped mountains of Southeastern Kentucky backed up by the whole Blue-Grass region of the State with railroads running through it to all points of the compass, makes it naturally one of the best located towns in the South for manufactures and other enterprises of magnitude. Water Works are now being erected and right about the town about three-fourths of a mile there could be erected Water Works with very little cost that would supply a city of 50,000 inhabitants with the purest and best water in the world. Our little city has been newly rebuilt in the last few years and its business houses and residences will compare with larger cities of greater pretensions. Our merchants and tradesmen are all prosperous and doing well. We have two banks with a capital stock of $200,000 that are prosperous and in a good condition.

We have splendid schools. We have a Female College, a large brick building, with over 100 pupils in attendance and under the principality of Prof. J. M. Hubbard, is in a flourishing condition. We also have a Seminary that is a good school, with Prof. E. F. Blakely at its head. We have one of the best Public School buildings in this section of the State, with over 100 pupils in attendance, and other good private schools, so you see our school facilities are excellent.

We have elegant church buildings, representing every denomination, with a full corps of ministers in attendance, and are doing a better business than any class of men in this city.

I have tried to make this statement as facts, without any exaggeration or coloring, and at these who know will bear me out, and those who wish to buy pleasant homes at fair prices and who wish among a good people with all the best surroundings would do well to call and see me before purchasing elsewhere.

A DECIDED treat is in store for those who attend Walton's Opera House on Thursday night. Miss Marion Lowell is one of the finest readers before the American public and should be greeted by a full house.

RICK PITMAN was fined $50 in Squire E. B. Caldwell's court at Waynesburg, Friday, for giving John Gooch, an infant in the eyes of the law, a drink of whisky.

MR. Wm. MORELAND, the enterprising stock buyer, starts in this morning with a yearly card. Read his ad. and consult him when you want to buy cattle, sheep or hogs.

A NEW boy at Mr. A. C. Carman's makes the old man feel young again and forget for awhile that he was ever thrown from a wagon in a runaway (and had his shin bone driven six inches into the rocky pike).

THIEVES effected an entrance into the store room of Jesse D. Wearren, Thursday night, and breaking into his cash drawer relieved it of its contents, amounting to $19. The store was entered through the rear door and was opened by the use of a crow bar, or some such tool.

HON. J. W. YERKES, chairman, has issued a call for a republican district convention of the 8th Congressional district, to be held at Nicholasville, Friday, Mar. 25, for the purpose of electing two delegates and two alternate district delegates to the republican national convention at Minneapolis.

THE examining trial of Green Gentry for the murder of Joe Goode was called Friday and continued till yesterday when it was again continued till Wednesday at 10 A. M. Hon. R. C. Warren, counsel for the accused, announcing that he could not be ready with his witnesses before then.

WHEN Marshal Tom Martin, of Rowland, attempted to arrest John Herbert for being drunk and disorderly he resisted and got knocked down for his trouble. The officer then brought him here and lodged him in jail and he will be tried this morning. He claims to be from Clay and it is thought he is wanted there for some crime.

As the north bound express was coming down Pine Hill, Monday morning, Engineer Phil Soden saw a landslide just in time to shut off steam, reverse and jump. He escaped unhurt, but Tom Martin, his fireman, who also jumped, was badly injured in the back. The engine struck the slide lightly so but little damage was done and after two hours' delay the train went on its way.

THE young ladies of Stanford have decided to give a Leap Year party, Feb. 29. It will be at the Coffey House, where an elegant supper will be served and where dancing will be enjoyed to music furnished by the best band procurable. The young ladies intend that the affair shall eclipse anything of the kind ever given in this section and we will wager that they will be more than successful.

THE Superior court has affirmed the decision of the Lincoln Circuit Court in the case of Stephens vs. the L. & N. R. R., holding that a limited ticket is good for the holder to start on his journey before midnight of the last day and complete the trip, even if he has to change trains in doing so, and that the verdict of $350 damages for forcible ejection from the car is not excessive.

WE go to press too early to speak of the merits of J. C. Lewis' St. Plunkard Co., but we are sure that all who attend will be repaid. The band gave an amusing parade and discoursed some fine music to a large crowd drawn to hear it. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have only been married five weeks and Sunday night being the anniversary of Mrs. Lewis' birth, they celebrated it by giving a musical entertainment to a few honored guests at their hotel, who greatly enjoyed it. Mrs. Lewis is a lovely little blonde and can warble like a bird, besides being a fine performer on the piano. Mr. Tom Edwards, also a warbler and a fine vocalist, assisted and contributed much to the evening's pleasure. Mr. Lewis is himself young and handsome and he and his bride make a very interesting pair.

A FEW nights ago Mr. L. R. Borders, a traveling man, arrived at this place on a night train and stopped at the Coffey House. He had collected $540 and as there was no bank or safe open and fearing that he might get "tapped," he secreted the money, most of which was in gold, in one of his shoes. Bob Whitley the porter at that hostelry, came up the next morning and tipping in so as not to arouse Mr. Borders, took the shoes down to black them. His surprise on finding the money was great indeed, but not much more so than the owner when he awoke to find his shoes gone. Mr. Borders at once began search and fortunately for him had not proceeded far in his stocking feet till he came across Bob, who with peculiar honesty handed him over the entire "wad."

BADE HANSFORD and Tom Bailey, both colored, were each fined $5 for engaging in a street fight. They had both drawn knives, but were parted before they had an opportunity of using them.

AFTER raining all day Sunday a water spout came at 5 o'clock, coving the earth several inches and making the streets for the time impassable. Yesterday was clear and pleasant, the cold wave having failed to materialize. Colder, fair is to-day's forecast.

THE aurora borealis, which was witnessed here Saturday night, was seen over the Northern States from the Atlantic to Iowa. It is rarely seen as far south as Kentucky, this being the second since 1872. The clouds in the North were a beautiful rose red and the sight for nearly an hour was one of beauty.

REV. G. W. BOLLING says that the story that he had found a pocket book on the train and had been charged with abstracting $20 from it was a joke. He did find an empty pocket book which somebody had dropped to see who would pick it up. There was a charge that it contained $20, but it was untrue and the whole thing was done for a laugh. The persons who made it appear otherwise are enemies of the parson, who intends to show them up in their true light.

THE New Cash Store has just opened the finest lot of boys' and youths' clothing, shirts and waists and gents' negligee shirts, hosiery and ties ever opened up in Stanford. We have nice negligee shirts at from 25c to $2.50. We will sell this week ladies' Scotch Homespun dress patterns at $2.50, $4.25, $4.50, $5.00 and $6.50. We are still leaders in white goods, embroideries, laces, &c., and are receiving additions to our stock every day. John S. Hughes.

THE continued case of W. G. Holland for liquor license at Kingsville, was heard before Judge Varnon Saturday and refused. Considerably more than a majority of the legal voters protested against the license and there was no other alternative. It is claimed that there are 44 legal voters in the town. Of these 32 signed the protest. The applicant showed that six were not entitled to vote. In that event there are but 38 while the protestants number 27.

AN old colored man in town was given a couple of buckets of milk the other night to be taken to a party who lives near the Christian church. Prayer meeting was going on in the lecture room of that church and the old negro, not very well acquainted here, walked up to the door, knocked and handed in the milk. Mr. A. A. Warren, who responded to the rap at the door, was perplexed and knowing that milk was not spiritual food, called the darkey back and gave him his treasure to deliver elsewhere.

DICK OWENS, a Bell county moonshiner, was captured at Rowland, Sunday, by John Carrier and Marshal Newland on a dispatch from Deputy U. S. Marshal L. L. Johnson, and lodged in jail. Owens says that the deputy and his prisoners were all enjoying themselves drinking and cracking jokes and when they got to Riley's the whole tea party was half drunk. He was in that fix himself, but he knew enough to accept a chance to escape and when his train stopped for a freight to pass he jumped aboard the freight and was making his way back to the hills of Bell, when captured as stated.

THE killing of Joe Goode by Green Gentry in Anderson Carr's bar-room, making the second person to be killed there, has raised the question as to whether he is keeping a proper house under his license. An effort was made to have the council rescind his license at its last meeting, but it was decided that the proper method of procedure against him was before the county judge on complaint of citizens. Accordingly a warrant was issued returnable before Judge Varnon next Thursday, when proof will be heard on the question of revoking Carr's license. The fact that the killing occurred in his saloon is not of itself proof that he is keeping a disorderly house and that alone is not sufficient to convict him, since it might have occurred anywhere, but it is said that additional proof will be brought forward to sustain the charge. In this connection it would be well also to investigate the other saloons in town. We are told that liquors can be obtained from them at any time Sundays through private entrances and that there is complaint against them for selling to inebriates, which is expressly forbidden under the law. Let there be a searching investigation and let no one be spared because of race or other reasons. If the saloon men want to have the license law continued, it will stand them in hand to live squarely up to the bonds that they have given. They can do more to make that law odious than all other agencies combined. The law and order men who are not prohibitionists, will be forced to change their opinions as to license, if the safeguards are continually and openly violated.

Attention of the public is invited to the fact that this is the only National Bank in Stanford, Under the provisions of the National Bank Act depositors are secured not only by the capital stock, but by the stockholders' liability for an amount equal to the stock, so that depositors of this institution are secured by a fund of $400,000.
Five sworn statements of the condition of the bank are made each year to the United States government and its assets are examined at stated times by government agents, thus securing additional and perfect safety to depositors.
This institution, originally established as the Deposit Bank of Stanford in 1858, then re-organized as the National Bank Act in 1863 and again re-organized as the First National Bank of Stanford in 1864, has had practically an uninterrupted existence of 32 years. It is better supplied now with facilities for transacting business promptly and liberally than ever before in its long and honorable career. Accounts of corporations, fiduciaries, firms and individuals respectfully solici-tated.

BOYLE COUNTY.—Miss Lucy Quisenberry, only daughter and oldest child of Mrs. Anna F. Quisenberry, died suddenly of apoplexy, at the residence of her mother, near this city. While preparing to make some calls, she was taken ill and called to her mother for aid. She told Mrs. Quisenberry that she felt a peculiar sensation about her heart, and expressed great alarm. Physicians were immediately sent for and messengers sent for her relatives, but before any of them reached her bedside she had become unconscious and death ensued two hours later. Miss Quisenberry had enjoyed her usual good health and the night previous to her death had attended the lecture in this city. The deceased was a member of the Second Presbyterian church and possessed of the christian graces inherent in a devout follower of the teachings of the lowly Nazarine. She was also a lady of culture and refinement and an ornament to the circle in which she was a favorite. Mr. James Bottom died at his home near Perryville, Thursday, Feb. 5. He was 83 years old, and save two or three exceptions was the oldest man in this section of Boyle county.—Mr. Charles Stanwood and Miss Blanche Masonheimer, of this city, were married at Lexington Wednesday.—Advocate.

In 1888 the democratic national ticket, on a platform of radical tariff reform, carried the country on the popular vote by a majority exceeding 100,000. In 1890, on the same platform, it swept the country. If the democracy stands by its colors this year there need be no fear that it will meet with any "misadventure" in November.—Indianapolis Sentinel.
—Now, children, who was the strongest man?" asked the Sunday-school superintendent. "John L. Samson," yelled a little fellow, whose knowledge of sacred and profane history was somewhat mixed.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

MATRIMONIAL MATTERS.

—Mrs. Charles Chick, of Canaan, Me., is making the most of her opportunities in the world. She is not yet 25 years of age, but the mother of ten children, the oldest of whom has been but nine summers.

—Maj. and Mrs. Thomas Tuttle, recently celebrated in their New Hampshire home, in which they have lived since their union, the 70th anniversary of their marriage. They are each past 93, with the wife a few months older. They are both inveterate readers and Mrs. Tuttle claims to have read the Bible through 14 times.
—Miss Emma Dodds, formerly of this county, but who has been teaching in Jessamine county for several years, was married at the residence of Mr. J. R. Dodds, in Danville, Thursday morning, to Mr. D. L. Trimble, of near Nicholasville, and who by the way frequently "makes" this place in his travels as commercial tourist. Miss Dodds is a most estimable and accomplished lady and her friends hereabouts wish her all the happiness that this world can give.

"You may kiss me for 25 cents," was the legend borne on six cards suspended by six strings, tied around the necks of six pretty girls at a church fair at Burns, Mich., one night last week. When the curtain was drawn displaying the aggregation of tempting sweetness within the reach of all who possessed the necessary quarter, there was a temporary, painful, blinding pause, broken soon by resounding snatches, giggling and the jingle of coin. The show lasted only a few minutes, owing to the objections of some of the matrons present, but the church debt was wiped out.—Henderson Gleaner.

The old saw runs: "When a dog is down everybody kicks him," and that seems to be the fate of the new constitution. Jack Hendricks has kicked it, the Senate has kicked it, the House has kicked it, and now comes the board of magistrates of Marshall county, who levy a poll tax of $2 when the new instrument expressly provides that it shall not exceed more than $1.50.—Herald Green Herald.

Look Out For Him.—About two months ago a young man came to this city and solicited the enlarging of pictures. He charged $3 for the work and required $1 to be paid in advance in every instance. He secured a good many dollars and several pictures which were the only ones had of some dead friend or relative. If anyone sees him send him to this city, we will turn him over to the ladies whom he beat, and will then ship his remains to any address.—Mt. Sterling Gazette.

It was Cleveland's idea that it was the duty of the people to support the government, not of the government to support the people, but that is an antiquated notion that has fallen into innocuous desuetude. Last year the government bore upon its pay rolls the names of 600,000 pensioners and 247,294 employees. No wonder taxes amounting to more than $1,000,000 a day are inadequate to the support of a paternal government with so large a family on its hands.—Louisville Times.

A noted Western man riding across the country and noticing thousands of acres of cornstalks standing in the field from which the ears had been jerked said: "The farmer is conducting the only business in the world that allows a man to lose 45 per cent. of his capital stock and at the same time live."

In order to photograph the flying insect, the exposure must last only 1-25-1000th part of a second. This the French photographer, M. Marey, claims to have accomplished by the aid of a new instrument invented by himself. He has also photographed the blood globules circulating in a vein.

Beggar—Sir, I am starving.
Crosses—Here, take this cent and tell me how you came so miserably poor.
Beggar—Ah, sir, I was like you. I was too fond of giving large sums of money to the poor.—Epoch.

Rubenstein—Vat you gif der baby dis year?
Feldman—Ach, ve vos sly like foxes. Ve vat till Grissman ant gif him his name.—Judge.
